We Did Everything But Win is a 2018 American sports drama film directed by Michael Jordan. The film stars Samuel L. Jackson, Rosario Dawson, and John David Washington. The film follows the true story of the Marshall University football team in 1970, which was involved in a plane crash that killed 75 people.

The film begins with the team preparing for their season-opening game against Virginia Tech. The team is led by head coach Jack Lengyel (Samuel L. Jackson), who is determined to lead the team to a winning season. However, the team's hopes are dashed when their plane crashes on November 14, 1970, killing all 75 people on board.

The film then follows the team's journey of grief and resilience. The team's surviving members must come to terms with the loss of their teammates and coaches. They must also find a way to rebuild their lives and their team.

The film is a powerful and moving tribute to the victims of the Marshall University plane crash. It is also a story of hope and triumph. The team's journey of grief and resilience is an inspiring example of the human spirit.
